

ARP BANK ROBBED OF $16,000 HUNDRED DEAD IN MEXICO TIDAL WAVE

MANY LIVES LOST AND TOWNS WIPED OUT ON WEDNESDAY

CHAOTIC CONDITIONS PRE- VENTS ACCURATE CHECK ON LOSS OF LIFE

COLIMA, State of Colima, Mexico, June 23.—(P)—Gov. Salvador Saucedo informed The Associated Press today that there were perhaps 100 dead in yesterday's tidal wave and a great danger of pestilence would follow unless outside aid came immediately.

The governor said most of the dead were in Cuyutlan, the state's famous summer resort, but said upwards of 20,000 persons were living out of doors in the capital. Here he said there was a shortage of food, medicine and money as well as tents and many of the injured from Cuyutlan were not receiving adequate care.

The governor appealed for the aid of the "world Red Cross" in the emergency. The populace of most of the state, harassed by many earthquakes within the month, were afraid everywhere to return to their homes.

The governor told the correspondent he was living in a tent in a public park with the citizens, and that nearly two thousand refugees from Cuyutlan had crowded into the town.

Colima also had on her hands the injured from previous quakes this month.

Al Arrives for Convention

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York and Mrs. Smith upon their arrival in Chicago for the democratic national convention.

MORE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT ARRIVE

MURRAY AND SMITH OUT- SPOKEN AGAINST NOMI- NATION OF ROOSEVELT

CHICAGO, June 23.—(P)—William G. McAdoo and Alfred E. Smith, who fought through more than a hundred ballots in 1924 for the presidential nomination, buried the hatchet today when McAdoo called on Smith at his headquarters.

The two veteran democratic warriors found themselves in a common cause at this convention. Both were attempting to head off the candidacy of the leading contender, Franklin D. Roosevelt. McAdoo was supporting Speaker Garner and Smith was again a candidate for the nomination.

Emerging from the conference room after 20 minutes, McAdoo smilingly described the visit:

"We jollied each other about 1924 and exchanged pleasantries and anecdotes. We also discussed flying."

"No; we did not talk about the presidential campaign of this year nor about convention plans."

"How did you jolly each other about 1924?" McAdoo was asked.

"If you haven't got a sense of humor after eight years, it's too bad," he replied as he walked away.

Earlier, McAdoo had visited the Roosevelt headquarters.

Leaders at Democratic Convention

Much will be heard of these four democratic leaders during the national convention at Chicago. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, is backing J. P. Morgan, chairman of the executive committee, for the post of permanent chairman of the convention. Senator Walsh of Montana is Governor Roosevelt's candidate for the past. Senator Barkley of Kentucky will be temporary chairman and keynoter. He is also being boomed for the vice-presidential nomination in event Roosevelt wins first place.

UNMASKED BANDITS LOCK THREE PEOPLE IN VAULT OF BANK

TWO MEN SECURE $16,000 FROM ARP STATE BANK AND MAKE ESCAPE

TYLER, June 23.—(P)—Two unmasked robbers held up the Arp State Bank this afternoon and escaped with $16,000 after locking two bank employees and a customer in the vault. They sped away in an automobile in the general direction of Trough with posses in officers from several East Texas towns in pursuit.

Harman Armstrong, teller; Mrs. H. D. Moore, bookkeeper, and the customer were in the bank during the afternoon lull of business when the robbers walked in the front door with drawn pistols.

Armstrong was forced to hand over the money. The robbers then locked him and the other two persons in the vault and ran out the door to an automobile which had been parked with the motor running at the curb.

One report said the robbers turned off the trap highway and headed toward Tyler.

Armstrong described one of the robbers as a black man, and of stocky build. The other was considerably older. Officers thought it possible they were hangers-on of some old field city.

The bookkeeper, however, from inside the vault to Assistant Cashier Jasper L. Wilson, who hurried to the bank and opened the vault door.

AMERICAN HOPES STRONG GOOD WILL COME OF ARMS CUT

HOOVER'S SWEEPING PRO- POSAL FOR ARMS CUTS IS BACKED

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(P)—Insistence by the French government upon a security pact, reported in press dispatches from Geneva concerning President Hoover's arms slash plan, brought the assertion today in high governmental quarters that the United States under no conditions would consider entering such an agreement.

President Hoover and his diplomatic advisors watched closely the reaction to the proposal for reducing the world's arms by one-third, at an estimated saving of around $15,000,000,000 in the next

HUGGINS IS PLAIN IN HIS STATEMENT TEXAS PRO VOTING

SAYS NO CONFUSION EXISTS EXCEPT WHERE SOME WISH TO CREATE IT

DALLAS, June 23.—(P)—Governor R. S. Sterling today ranked himself with those who disapprove of the state democratic executive committee's action in ordering a prohibition referendum for the July 23 primary.

"I was personally opposed to the referendum before the committee acted because I did not think the question should be injected into this campaign," said the governor. "That is still my position and I do not think the question about holding the prohibition referendum should be on the primary ballot."

Governor Sterling pointed out that he was not a member of the state executive committee, that he had no control over its actions, and therefore, he could do nothing toward having the committee meet again and rescind its order for the referendum.

EVERYBODY IS GOING TO BIG CHARITY CARNIVAL; PARADE, MUSICAL PROGRAM AND DANCE

All plans had been completed late Thursday for the Pony Charity Carnival for the benefit of the United Charities Association to be held in Mills Place Friday evening beginning at 7 o'clock according to members of the general committee.

The first feature of the carnival will be the parade. The parade will start at 7 o'clock and will be a free parade presented in the business district about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, headed by Mayor W. Edens and wife in one of the official city conveyances, and followed by other city officials. The parade will include a large section devoted to antique horse-drawn vehicles of all kinds, and with the possible exception of the traffic escort, all entries will walk or ride horses or ponies. More than 50 mounts and riders have been promised for the parade.

Another feature of the parade will be the Drum and Bugle Corps of the American Legion in uniform, along with the State Home band under the direction of Joel Trimble. Johnnie Garitty has promised to entertain the parade with a "politicians band," but makes no promises for the quality of the music.

Early in the afternoon Mills Place will be roped off and no traffic will be allowed in the carnival area. Workers were engaged Thursday in placing additional lights for the entertainers and merrymakers. Preparations were also being made for the concession booths, hamracks and other entertainment and money-making devices.

At 6:30 the State Home Band will give a concert under the direction of Mr. Trimble at the entrance to Mills Place which will continue until 7:30. The gates of the carnival grounds are expected to open at 7 o'clock, and there will be staged immediately a pony show, with an attractive prize for the best juvenile rider.

PER WELL FIGURES IN EAST TEXAS AREA WILL REMAIN SAME

MAXIMUM FIELD OUTPUT HAS BEEN ELIMINATED BY RAIL COMMISSION

AUSTIN, June 23.—(P)—The Texas railroad commission today fixed the per well allowable of the East Texas oilfield at 51 barrels daily for a sixty day period beginning July 1. The top field maximum output of 325,000 barrels was eliminated. The current allowable is 51 barrels per well.

The commission announced it would soon set dates for hearings on operations in other Texas fields, particularly Yates and Van, for the purpose of considering new production rules for those pools.

The present allowable for Van is 50,000 barrels daily and the Yates maximum is 65,000 barrels daily. It was estimated that there are

DEATH ALEXANDER WINTON RECALLS RAPID PASSING OF PIONEERS OF AUTO INDUSTRY

STERLING RECALLS PROXY FROM HANDS OF W. A. TARTER

DETROIT, June 23.—(P)—The death in Cleveland Tuesday of Alexander Winton marked the passing of the third immortal of the automobile industry in a period of less than three months.

Winton was regarded as the first commercial producer, having built the first car for a retail customer in 1898.

The super-salesman of the industry, Hugh Chalmers, died at Beacon, N. Y., June 2. He initiated the intensive selling methods that have become standard throughout the industry with the mass production era.

On March 26, Henry M. Leland, "Grand Old Man" of the industry, died in Detroit at the age of 89. It was Leland who introduced battery, electric lighting and electric control of engine temperature.

Of lesser note in the industry's early days were Cady B. Durbin, vice president and assistant general manager of the Buick Motor Company, who died May 10, and R. C. Hupp, who died Dec. 7, 1931. Durbin and Hupp actually were of the era that followed the pioneer days.

One of the most tragic figures in the romance of the automobile industry, David Buick, died in Detroit March 5, 1929. Buick, original founder of the Buick Motor Company, was a wealthy manufacturer of plumbing fixtures when he turned his thoughts to the automobile industry. Financial difficulties overtook him shortly after he built the first Buick cars and he was forced to see his company pass into other hands. He died virtually penniless in an obscure flat, where he could watch many cars bearing his name, but was unable himself to afford even a telephone.

TAMMANY DELAYS SUPPORT DECISION TO SUNDAY CAUCUS

SUPPORTERS OF ROOSEVELT LAUNCH ACTIVE CAMPAIGN AGAINST OLD RULE

By RICHARD L. TURNER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

CHICAGO, June 23.—(P)—With Tammany taking its own time in deciding whom it will back for the democratic presidential nomination, supporters of Franklin D. Roosevelt looked more and more favorably today on an effort to kick the ancient and revered two-party right out of the convention.

With or without New York's potent 94 votes, the Roosevelt camp claims a majority of the delegates. But whether it could hold this strength in a battle—and a rousing fight it would be—to lay the old rule aside was a question that aroused speculation.

Certain it is, however, that post-mortem of Tammany's decision until the New York delegation can gather in caucus Sunday spurred the Roosevelt forces to a peak of activity. James A. Farley, the manager of the New York Governor's campaign, set aside the first few hours of a busy day for a talk with John E. Curry, Tammany jockey, who had just arrived to take a position smilingly at the

Cannon Willing For People Vote On Pro Question

CHICAGO, June 23.—(P)—Bishop James Cannon Jr., fighting prohibition leader, says the allied dry forces are as willing "as the wettest of the wet" to have the people speak on prohibition.

Arriving here yesterday en route to Iowa, the Methodist Episcopal, South, church official announced the drys would make a determined plank at a straight enforcement convention as they did at the republican.

"Then we will take it to the country," he declared. And the results, he said, will be "surprising."

"You will find," the bishop predicted, "that the country isn't controlled by the wet states and that the folks back home will have something to say."

He plans to return to Chicago for the convention.

ALTERNATE ROUTE FOR HIGHWAY 22 IS BEING CONSIDERED

RIGHT OF WAY DIFFICULTIES MAY CAUSE CHANGE IN HIGHWAY ROUTING

With the securing of right of way on State Highway 22 from Corsicana to Hillsboro becoming increasingly difficult to secure, highway officials are now considering an alternate route in place of Second avenue as shown in the original route map according to Mr. W. R. Lawrence, highway engineer.

In company with state, district and local officials, Mr. Lawrence made a route check of the proposed alternate route connecting the Hill and Navarro county seats last Saturday, paying particular attention to the alternate route which will bring the highway into Corsicana connecting with West Seventh avenue and making direct connections on hard surfaced streets with Highways 75 and 31, and also missing the principal portion of the business district.

Another point in favor of the alternate route is the securing of right-of-way to a standstill. It is understood that local officials are slightly in favor of the said route, but Mr. Lawrence said in discussing the matter that they might be forced to accept the alternate to complete the road.

With the completion of the road to Hillsboro, a major road system will be completed, all other cardinals being either finished or under contract and only a few lateral roads remaining on the original plans.

COTTONSEED OIL PRODUCTION COSTS REDUCED ONE-THIRD

FORT WORTH, June 23.—(AP)—Cotton seed oil production costs have been reduced a third in the last five years, according to the opening session of cotton oil men here.

It was the annual joint session of the National Oil Mill Superintendents' Association and the Machinery Manufacturing Supply Men's Association.

Wilson said it costs half of what cotton is selling for today for the grower to pick it, transport it and have it ginned. He declared it is a question how much of the 1932 crop will be picked because of that fact.

Wilson pointed out that during the World War cotton seed oil sold for 26-12 cents a pound, whereas this week it sold for 23-4 cents a pound.

J. Tom Turber, Hillsboro, president of the superintendents, reported that southern housewives should use more cotton seed oil in cooking. He explained the foreign market for cotton seed products has been reduced because foreign nations are growing more cotton.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF FROST BURIED THERE WEDNESDAY

FROST, June 22.—(Spl.)—Funeral services for Mrs. J. C. Scott, aged 68, pioneer resident of this city who died at her home here Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, were held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home. The services were conducted by Rev. D. P. Cagle, assisted by Rev. O. Nelson of Mt. Calm, Baptist ministers. Burial was in the Frost cemetery.

Surviving are one son, Jimmie Scott, Frost; five daughters, Mrs. Tillie Hooser, Dallas; Mrs. Mamie Griffin, Albany; Mrs. Callie E. Cough, Frost; Mrs. Callie and Miss Ellen Scott, all of Frost. Nine grandchildren and a number of other relatives also survive.

Houston Man Was Injured In Highway Creash Near Fairfield

FAIRFIELD, June 22.—(Spl.)—Paul Lang of Houston had two ribs broken Tuesday afternoon when his truck in which he was riding collided with a tree on the side of Highway 75 a few miles south of Fairfield. A boy who was driving the truck escaped uninjured. It was said the boy went to sleep while driving.

Lang was taken to a hospital at Teague where he received treatment and was later taken to his home.

McAdoo In Favor of Referendum Vote

OMAHA, Neb., June 22.—(AP)—William Gibbs McAdoo expressed the belief here today that the prohibition question has occurred other more important issues, but explained he favors an immediate referendum on the question.

Flying to Chicago from the west coast to attend the national democratic convention, McAdoo declined to express himself on the advocacy of prohibition repeal by Speaker Garner, whom he supports for the presidential nomination.

"Any proposal to repeal or modify the eighteenth amendment should be decided by a direct vote of the people," he said.

"This can be done by an act of congress providing for a special election at which no other issue shall be submitted. This should be done by a special session of the new congress under the president. The session should be held before the new congress convenes in December, 1933."

McAdoo's son-in-law of the late President Wilson, and former secretary of the treasury, described the republican plank as "an evident attempt to catch votes on both sides by obscuring what the plank meant, if anything."

BONUS SEEKERS TO HOLD CONVENTION TO DECIDE PLANS

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Plans for a "convention" of the bonus army, a political activity will be confined to fighting bonus opponents or whether a third party move shall be attempted, were being formulated today by leaders of the veterans.

A split between the legislative committee and the executive officers of the army has developed over the question. The committee recommended a third party attempt if the democratic convention ignores the bonus issue. Commander-in-chief Walter W. Waters and his aides have warned against it.

While little political agitation has been manifest among the thousands hanging on to their camp life here, there has been extended, leaders believe, to require a showdown. The army is assembling 500 representatives from the various states, which have delegations here, to thrash out the matter to a decision in parliamentary fashion.

One of the points raised by the army, now estimated at 18,000 to 23,000, were not being held up by the new idea, however. A good many of the men were taking "French leave" and going home without a word to the company commanders. Waters admitted yesterday the army is shrinking.

RESCINDING ORDER FOR REFERENDUM IS SOUGHT BY COLLINS

DALLAS, June 22.—(AP)—Carr P. Collins, member of the state Democratic executive committee from Dallas, today initiated a legislative bill to rescind the order for a vote on a prohibition referendum in the July 23 primary election.

The committee said the result of the poll would be said before W. O. Huggins of Houston, chairman, for such action as he may see fit to take.

Collins explained the poll was resorted to because of widespread dissatisfaction and confusion which the pending referendum has brought about among county committees.

One of the points raised by how funds should be supplied, holding the referendum. After a number of counties had indicated they would not stand the cost of printing the prohibition ballot, an announcement was made that the executive committee planned to bear this expense. Doubt still prevailed in some circles here, however, as to whether the state or county would bear the cost.

Huggins recently informed a group of dry leaders that he would not call the committee together to rescind its action. He took the position then he was not in a parliamentary position to do so.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the kindness shown us by our friends and neighbors during the illness and death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Vest. We wish to thank Doctor Worsham for his untiring efforts in regard to her illness. Assistance was given to those who assisted in the funeral offerings also.

STATE COMMITTEE TO BEAR EXPENSE REFERENDUM VOTE

CHAIRMAN REFUSES CALL MEETING OF COMMITTEE RESCIND ACTION

HOUSTON, June 21.—(AP)—Two issues of the prohibition referendum disputes which flared up in many county democratic executive committee meetings over the state yesterday were definitely cleared up today. They are:

1.—The democratic state executive committee, which ordered the referendum at its recent meeting in Austin, announced through its office W. O. Huggins, the chairman, and Albert Sidney Johnson, the secretary, that the state committee will bear the entire cost of the printing of the referendum ballot, as well as its distribution, and chairman Huggins has pointed out that there should be no further or extra expense.

"The county executive committees," explained Chairman Huggins, "are entirely free to bargain with the election workers as to the cost of the referendum ballot at no additional cost, and it is customary to do so."

2.—Chairman Huggins has definitely declined the request of Dallas county leaders to call another meeting of the state executive committee to rescind the order for a referendum.

Protests that the printing of the referendum ballot would be too much of a burden for the county to stand came Monday from Harris, Dallas, Hunt, McLennan, Cooke, Navarro and other counties.

The refusal to call another meeting of the state committee, to rescind the referendum, was in answer to a telegram from the allied forces for prohibition in Dallas county.

Judge Huggins in his letter of reply explained the action of the committee and said that he did not feel "in a parliamentary sense" could "rescind" such a meeting, nor "in justice" could he do so.

From Creation To Dead Man's Bones, Genesis Story Runs

Oldest Book Links First Record Of Creator With Human Destiny And Welfare--What Is Really Supreme Issue In This Time of Depression?

At first sight, one rather gasps at the sweep of a study which begins with creation and ends with the drama of a single family's fortunes. Upon contemplation, a thrilling truth begins to dawn. These lessons in the Book of Genesis have a larger meaning than was apparent in any one of them. For the past three months millions of persons have been giving thought to this old record, which starts out with the mystery of a pre-existent Creator and ends with the death of a prime minister in Egypt, directing that his bones should be buried in the homeland of Israel. What a gamut!

Yet a startling truth emerges. The tale of individual men and women in the misty past, are not unrelated to the sublime record of how the Infinite brought this world into being. Like a great arch, the record sweeps from the primal truth of the Creator to the individual adventures of a family. And it appears that the purposes of God—all His vast scheme of creation—eventuate in His Fatherhood for him and his people. There is a stupendous unity in the story. None but a very great God—an infinite and immeasurable Being—could take into His thought the purpose of the individual and the progress of the world. It is difficult to say which is the greater attribute of the Almighty—His establishment of this awesome universe or His concern for the spiritual progress of individual men and women.

Lifting Up Our Heads

This present generation has endured a deal of discussion, and debate of it unimportant and pointless, concerning the origin of the human species. Genesis cuts straight to all this by asserting that man was created by God. His beginning was in the mind of an intelligent Supreme Being.

The crowning work of the heads and hearts of humanity. What ever the processes, however long the time, man came into existence with the breath of the Divine in his soul. Somehow, the mortal became the immortal.

The Dallas Telegram follows: "Hon. W. O. Huggins, Houston, Texas.

"At a meeting of allied forces for prohibition, I am requested to urge you to call a special meeting of the state democratic executive committee for the purpose of rescinding the referendum action of the executive committee of the state of Texas, as time is too short. A thorough discussion and vote by all the people and referendum should be by constitutional means rather than party means."

(Signed) "H. K. Taylor."

The letter Judge Huggins wrote Mr. Taylor follows in part: "I have no desire that any action of the state executive committee be wanting in the fullest consideration and deliberation.

"At the large daily papers of this state, I suppose the least prominent ones, gave very wide publicity to the fact that such a referendum would be proposed. I arrived in Austin the day before the meeting of the executive committee and an incoming member who did not mention the subject to me. In the case of those who were represented by proxies, I am sure that nearly everyone, if not all of those actually present, expressed their views on the subject to the persons who acted for them and that their votes were cast accordingly."

Not Effort of Wets.

"I was not, before the meeting, at the time of the meeting, able to identify the resolution as an effort of the wets. It was proposed by the editor of the Tyler Morning Telegraph, who is a widely known prohibitionist. He was not actively and persistently opposed at Austin by Stuart R. Smith of Beaumont, a leader of the 'wets.' It was opposed also by Judge Sam C. Lackey, a stalwart member of the committee and a well known opponent of prohibition."

"Opposition to the resolution on the floor was led by the Hon. Beaman Strong. He is at Austin, unafraid and confident that if he had believed it to be an 'eleventh hour effort of the wets' or had he believed it to be 'unfair and unjust to the dries,' he would have said so. He did not take that position."

"The meeting was held upon until all who had a right to speak and desired to be heard had been fully heard. No mention was heard to rescind the action. Administrative action in obedience to the resolution is already in progress."

Under these circumstances, I do not feel that in a parliamentary sense I could that in justice to all I should call on the members of the committee to meet in special session to reconsider the resolution.

BONNER STORE AT EUREKA IS ROBBED FOR SECOND TIME

POSTOFFICE SAFE STOLEN AND BLOWN OPEN; MERCHANDISE TAKEN

For the second time in seven weeks the store of L. B. Bonner at Eureka was entered by burglars Tuesday night and about $90 in cash and more than $150 in merchandise was stolen. The robbery was discovered by Bruce Bonner early Wednesday morning when he started to open the store for business.

Postal Inspector R. R. Range, Sheriff Rufus Pevhouse and Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd started an investigation Wednesday morning.

Entrance to the building was secured by drilling through the front door and then the robbers ransacked the stock of the store, piling undesirable merchandise on the floor. While a complete check had not been made before noon, Mr. Bonner stated that his losses would run over the $150 mark consisting of wearing clothes, to be shoes, shoes, flour, meats, shot gun ammunition, hosiery and other merchandise.

The safe containing postal and personal funds was missing from the store when the robbery was discovered and was found about three miles away from the scene with the door blown open, about $25 in cash belonging to the store and money missing along with a number of government and private papers. The door of the safe had been knocked, indicating that an attempt had been made to enter the safe either in the store or by removing the combination unit but it was unsuccessful.

The store was robbed before on Tuesday night, May 7, and about $400 in cash was missing from the store and a similar amount of merchandise. Loss of records from the safe prevented an accurate check on the amount of missing cash Wednesday.

EUROPEAN PRESS, FRANCE EXCEPTED, BACK HOOVER PLAN

UNITED STATES DISARMA- MENT PROPOSALS MEET WITH GENERAL FAVOR

By the Associated Press
Newspapers and officials in the principal European countries today greeted President Hoover's plan for general disarmament cuts, announced yesterday, with almost universal approval.

The French papers, however, almost universally condemned it as "demagogic" and as an electioneering scheme.

The widely-read petit Parisien said it was "a beautiful, well-thought-out plan, together with the French constructive plan, it would have elicited only applause, but today it appears as a piece of extreme demagoguery and an electioneering scheme."

President Hoover might be forgiven for addressing "an electoral manifesto to Europe," Le Matin of Paris said, "but he can hardly be forgiven for forgetting that an international conference is held to confer, and not as a registry for usages." The widely-known political writer Pertinax, in the nationalist Echo de Paris, said:

"President Hoover seeks to impress the multitude by an elementary measure which the simplest can understand."

German newspapers, however, lauded the proposal as courageous and hailed it as the most significant international step since the declaration of the one-year moratorium on reparations and debt payments last summer.

Manuel Zana said the proposal dovetailed with the Spanish republic's often-repeated desire for world peace.

The proposals created a sensation in the British press. The general attitude among the cabinet ministers remaining in London was that "anyhow, things are moving."

George Lansbury, leader of the labor opposition, lauded the Hoover proposals.

Conversations with high officials of the foreign office, the army and the navy at Tokyo, produced the impression today that Japan is likely to follow the lead of France in dealing with President Hoover's new armaments proposals.

Pro. Referendum
er for a prohibition referendum, Judge Huggins announced in his statement that the next meeting to be held for the purpose of canvassing the returns of the July primary, as required by law.

The statement follows:
"There is no confusion about the prohibition referendum so far as the state democratic executive committee is concerned, except such confusion as others may wish to create themselves."

"If each county should pay the expenses of printing its own referendum ballot, the highest cost to any county in Texas would not exceed $50. The state executive committee, is, however, at a cost of a few hundred dollars, furnishing all of the ballots for the entire state. There need be no separate tally sheets. If each county tally sheets are desired, the heaviest cost to any county for providing them would be but a few dollars. The state executive committee is, however, furnishing tally sheets free of cost, when desired."

"Not a dime is needed for paying election workers for taking care of the referendum ballot. Any number of competent men in every county in this state will be glad to earn the one per cent and, without extra cost, take care of the separate referendum ballot. In good common sense the people of Texas know that it is the duty of the executive committee in this state to employ extra election officials, or pay additional compensation to those whom they do employ, for taking care of this little referendum ballot along with the other ballot, it will be because they want to do so and not because in good business judgment they should do so."

"In short, the entire matter is perfectly easy and free from difficulty for every county executive committee in this state which has a real desire to co-operate with the state executive committee and faithfully perform its duties under the direction of that committee."

"The next meeting of the state executive committee to be called by its chairman will be held for the purpose of canvassing the returns of the primary of July 23, as required by law."

DALLAS, June 23.—(P)—Efforts of some persons to have the democratic state executive committee rescind its proposed referendum prohibition in the primaries have met little encouragement from W. O. Huggins of Houston, committee chairman.

Carr P. Collins of Dallas, member of the committee, said yesterday six committee members whom he had telegraphed had advised him they feared rescinding the committee's decision would be tantamount to letting it stand. Collins had asked the 31 members of the committee whether they would vote to rescind if Huggins called another meeting of the committee.

Commenting on Collins' queries, Huggins said that in his opinion the next meeting of the committee will take place when the committee meets to canvass the returns of the July primary.

What Candidates For Democrats Are Doing at Present

(By The Associated Press)
Franklin D. Roosevelt.
Confident of victory, he is at Albany sticking to "my routine of being governor" and maintaining liaison with Chicago. He asked Mayor Walker of New York yesterday to answer charges of unfitness.

Alfred E. Smith.
Arriving at Chicago, he called flatly for repeal, denied "Stop-Roosevelt" attempt, and said, in answer to a question, that his formula for Democratic success was: "Write an honest, clear, to-the-point platform and nominate me."

Newton D. Baker.
After getting honorary degree at Yale, he made a speech, saying, "I admit I have sometimes been a bit discouraged as to what happens to the intellect of America after it leaves college."

John N. Garner.
The speaker, staying at Washington to provide over house, received stacks of telegrams lauding his recent statement on national issues, which included a declaration for repeal.

William H. Murray.
The governor left Oklahoma City bound for the convention. He refused a state employee who slipped him a note, saying, "I'm no dog," he said, "don't pat me on the back."

Harry F. Byrd.
The former governor of Virginia, in Chicago reiterated his stand for submission of a repeal plank to the states.

James A. Reed.
The former Missouri senator outlined his view of prohibition, favoring leaving Kansas City for Chicago. He said there would be prompt modification of the Volstead act and prompt submission of repeal of the 18th amendment.

Disarmament

decade, and a general tone of optimism prevailed.

Secretary Stimson said he believed the French government was "warming" to the Hoover proposal. Little anxiety was expressed in the capital over the attitude of Great Britain, Germany and Italy.

The reaction of France and Japan was watched closely.

As word of French deliberation of the need of a security pact reached the capital in newspaper reports, one high official let it be known that the American government had no intention of altering its policy of avoiding such pacts and agreements.

It was stated authoritatively that President Hoover and Secretary Stimson and the French attitude toward such a pact in mind when the present armament reduction plan was formulated.

It was stated further that a majority of leading government officials here consider the actual and practical security than any other proposal yet forwarded at the Geneva arms parity.

President Hoover had France in mind when he proposed the abolition of large motor guns and tanks, and at the same time suggesting that even the largest guns be allowed to remain in frontier fortresses.

Authoritative military experts here believe that with large mobile guns thrown definitely into the discard it would be impossible for any nation successfully to invade the French frontier.

It was stated that Germany in 1914 could not have successfully entered French territory had not the large mobile guns of the German army been able to pound to pieces French positions with their stationary artillery.

Still another factor of French safety, in the minds of officials, is the proposal for reducing the strength of the world by about one-third of the world's fleet as favorable to France since its fleet is not its strongest defensive weapon.

Abolition of bombing planes also would add added security to France, officials believe.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(P)—An optimistic attitude prevailed here today as President Hoover and his chief aide, Secretary Stimson, conferred at the White House on the far-reaching suggestion that one-third of the world's arms be tossed into the discard.

As he left the executive mansion, Stimson expressed satisfaction with the early reception given the proposed $15,000,000,000 armament slashing plan. The French government, reported in early press dispatches as cold to the suggestion, was said by the secretary of state as "apparently warming up to it."

The secretary of state expressed no dissatisfaction over the manner in which other governments had reacted to the plan.

Meanwhile, President Hoover received scores of congratulations on his latest move in international leadership.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(P)—Administration hopes were strong today that concrete results would come out of President Hoover's sweeping proposal for a one-third cut in world armaments, despite the initial French coldness toward it.

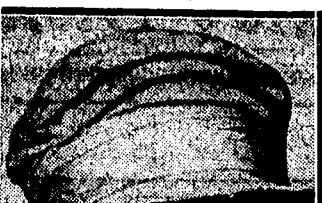

The President and Secretary Stimson were particularly cheered in direct reports to them by transatlantic telephone, from the American representatives in Geneva. These put a far more optimistic construction on the reaction of the European powers than was reflected by the news dispatches from the scene of the general disarmament conference and from the foreign capital.

Ambassador Hugh Gibson, chief American delegate, informed them of the reception of the Hoover plan was enthusiastic and that even that of French Minister Paul Boncour was surprisingly friendly when measured in the light of current French public opinion. He said also that Sir John Simon, head of the British delegation, approved the plan and believed that the European powers could get together on it to evolve a successful conclusion for the hitherto hopeless-appearing parity.

Nearly solid support from the important spokesmen in the American conference lent assurance that real difficulty was not going to be raised in the President's path at home.

Analysis of the President's formula indicated that, outside of the offensive weapons which would be discarded—bombing planes, tanks, big mobile guns and chemical warfare equipment, this country would not be making sacrifices, but actually might find itself in a slightly more favorable position than at present.

Democratic Leader

As Vice-President of the Democratic National Committee, Mrs. Nellie T. Ross (above), former Governor of Wyoming, will be in charge of women's activities at the Democratic National Convention.

CHICAGO, June 23.—(P)—Its authority challenged by proponents of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, a sub-committee of the Democratic national committee today heard testimony from contesting delegations from Minnesota and Porto Rico and adjourned to write its report to the full committee, which meets tomorrow.

CHICAGO, June 23.—(P)—Despite protests from the regular pro-Roosevelt delegation from Minnesota that it was not ready to proceed, the national committee sub-committee appointed to hear Democratic convention seating contests decided today to go ahead with the arguments.

Previously the subcommittee postponed for hearing tomorrow by the full committee the Louisiana contest brought by former Gov. J. Y. Sanders against the delegation headed by Senator Long.

Long challenged the validity of the subcommittee and Sanders expressed unwillingness to proceed in the absence of the regular Roosevelt delegation, also questioned the authority of the subcommittee.

But on motion of J. C. Adams of Texas, the sub-committee agreed to proceed after Ray G. Moonan, representing the contesting faction, had expressed readiness to present the case.

Moonan argued Donahue's statement that he was not ready was not made in good faith since he had a month's notice of the hearing.

Nell Cronin, city attorney of Minneapolis, representing the anti-Roosevelt delegation, argued the Roosevelt convention in Minnesota was illegal in that it excluded 41 regularly elected Hennepin county delegates and voters "secret members" appointed by the state chairman who were not delegates.

The voters of Minnesota have repudiated the action of that convention," Cronin said.

Long Protest Heeded.
CHICAGO, June 23.—(P)—The Democratic credentials sub-committee failed to take up the Louisiana delegation contest today because of the absence of the group headed by Senator Huey Long.

Long served notice yesterday on Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee that he would not recognize the right of a sub-committee to set up a contest but would insist that they be heard by the full committee.

The Ewing delegation in the absence of the Long group, declined to present testimony today and consideration of the Louisiana contest was postponed until tomorrow.

Retired Minister Takes Own Life

LUBBOCK, June 23.—(P)—A. J. Brown, 43, a temporarily retired Methodist Episcopal minister, shot and killed himself at a garage at his home here this morning.

Brooding over his financial burden evidently led Brown to take his life. A note left by Brown, said a note left by Brown, a graduate of Southwestern University, corroborated that belief.

Justice of the Peace W. S. Clark returned a verdict of suicide.

TREASURY FIGURES

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(P)—Treasury receipts for June 21 were $6,835,479.11; expenditures $14,280,074.83; balance $632,940,372.70. Customs duties for 21 days of June were $12,036,263.25.

Murray Predicts Roosevelt to Lose

CHICAGO, June 23.—(P)—Gov. William H. Murray came out of the Southwest today with a prediction Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York would not win the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Oklahoma governor, who holds the 22 delegates of his home state and one from South Dakota, arrived to find supporters of Roosevelt pinning their hopes for an early nomination on whether Tammany chooses to support Roosevelt with the big block of New York votes. This Tammany decision may determine, also, whether the Roosevelt forces will seek to abolish the time worn two-thirds rule.

"Who do you think the nominee will be?" the Oklahoma governor was asked as he stepped from the railroad train.

"You guess as well as I can," he said, "but his name won't be Roosevelt."

The governor declared he would support Jett Shouse for permanent chairman of the convention, that he was against changing the two-thirds rule, and that he would prefer Will Rogers as his running mate if he were nominated.

The governor predicted a fight over the Ewing amendment in committee but refused to commit himself on prohibition.

Propped up in a chair at his headquarters at the Congress Hotel, a little later with a barber cropping his long gray hair, Murray swung one shoeless foot and said:

"We've got to save this country. We'll have to deal with the economic questions and not the prohibition question."

"Whoever in the hell knew of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., advocating anything for the restoration of states rights?"

CONTEST BEING HEARD THURSDAY BY SUB-COMMITTEE

PROTEST OF HOOEY LONG, HOWEVER, SUFFICIENT TO HALT STATE HEARING

Arrest Made

Navarro county from Dawson to Corsicana and then back toward Dawson by Sheriff Rufus Pavone and other county officers.

It was learned here Wednesday night that the suspect had been harbored by other negroes in a servant's house in the while residential section of Corsicana for a portion of Wednesday while a frenzied search was maintained for him by city, county and precinct officers. County and city officers were only a few minutes behind the suspect on several occasions, it was stated Thursday.

Rhamba's lifeless body was found at an early hour Wednesday morning by a small white boy about a mile west of Dawson on Highway 31. The body was in Rhamba's car, a Buick sedan, which had been ditched. The driver of the "death car" apparently was driving at a high rate of speed and was unable to make the sharp turn, striking a small bridge and plunging into a shallow ditch. The car was not turned over. The victim had been shot through the head by a .38 pistol, the bullet having penetrated the head and denting the steel back of the car after going through a piece of wood in the spent bullet.

Phoned From Dawson.
Officers reported a negro walked into Dawson about 3:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and telephoned into Corsicana for someone to come for him. The person being held in the county jail as a material witness in connection with the case.

It was learned Thursday that the suspect belonged to a negro undertaker in Temple.

Local officers stated Thursday they understood the body Rhamba was returned to Austin Wednesday afternoon. The victim resided on Naches street in Austin and was one of the wealthiest and most influential negro undertakers in Texas. He had been treasurer of the Texas Negro Undertakers association for years.

Mrs. Miller had a host of warm friends in Corsicana, who will grieve with her heart-broken husband, children and other relatives.

She was active in religious, social and civic life in this city and her happy and unvarying cheerful disposition made friends of all with whom she came in contact.

Investigation in connection with the suspected murder of N. W. Rhamba, Austin negro undertaker, was lodged in jail here.

The negro was taken into custody after other negroes had become suspicious of his actions and notified officers. The negro, who formerly was associated with Rhamba in the undertaking business, denied any connection with the killing.

Two negroes from Austin were in Corsicana late Wednesday night and early Thursday morning in connection with the case and state they saw the man who went to Rhamba a short time before he disappeared from Austin. The two negroes stated the description given them of the suspect arrested at Hubbard tallied with the man they saw.

Kidnapping charges are expected to be filed against the suspect in Travis county during the day, while the Navarro county grand jury took cognizance of the affair Thursday morning, it was reported, and there is a strong possibility a murder indictment may be returned during the day by the probers.

Get Finger Prints.
Jack Merthaler, fingerprint expert of the Corsicana police department, went to Dawson Wednesday morning and procured several prints, but no prints of the suspect in custody had been secured here for comparison Thursday at noon.

Dalton Westmoreland, justice of the peace, Precinct 4, Dawson, viewed the body of Rhamba Wednesday and contacted a coroner's hearing. A verdict was returned following the inquest: "Deceased came to his death from a bullet wound in the head, fired by a person unknown."

Arrests are expected in the case.

at present 66,300 producing wells in the East Texas field. Under rules expiring July 1 each well was permitted to contribute an equal share to the 325,000 barrel top field allowable. Readjustment of each well's allowable output was made every fifteen days.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission, announced that a special accountant would be employed immediately to check the amount of oil sold by various companies operating in the East Texas field. He said this move was for the purpose of determining if any of the operators were exceeding the commission's allowable.

A hearing of operators in the East Texas area, comprising Smith, Upshur, Gregg, Rusk and Cherokee counties was concluded late yesterday. One group sought to show the commission that an increased allowable for the field would not result in physical waste. Another faction contended that to increase the output would impair ultimate recovery from the pool. Some operators produced testimony to show that even the current allowable was too high.

It was evident that the commission in calling hearings for the Yates and Vanhook fields contemplated some adjustments in the allowable there to meet whatever increased production resulted in East Texas from the bringing in of new wells. It was estimated that unless drilling activities in East Texas ceased, that field likely would be producing 400,000 barrels daily by Sept. 1.

Wells are increasing in the oil and gas division of the commission. Estimated there would be 7850 producing wells in the field by Sept. 1, basing his figures on the present drilling program.

On July 1 he estimated there would be 6450 wells producing 328,950 barrels daily; on July 15, 6800 well producing 348,800; on Aug. 1, 7150 wells producing 364,650; on Aug. 15, 7500 wells producing 382,500.

Had the top allowable of 325,000 barrels been maintained, wells in the field would have been reduced to 42 barrels each by Sept. 1, Parker estimated.

THE NEW COLONIO

I'm sure you know all about colonic irrigations. There are any number of kinds. But the new kind, which has no special name, as far as I know, is, in my opinion, much the best.

S. H.—Any of the waxes sold for the removal of superfluous hair will answer for your needs, and the cheaper ones will do the work as well as the costly ones.

Mrs. N. J.—Lanoline is a fattening oil and so is cocoa butter, so you may use either one for massaging the bust.

Mrs. C. H. K.—A set of exercises for keeping the chin and throat muscles firm and young are done as follows: Lie flat on the floor, fold the arms across the waistline and keep the entire body relaxed throughout the exercises that are in themselves very positive movements. Raise the head about eight or ten inches and hold it in that position for as long as possible, return to the front and turn head to the left as far as may be done; return, then go to the right and roll around to back, continuing until head has completed the circle. Repeat this in the opposite direction, and in each case never let the back of the head touch the floor. Rest after each section of these exercises. Repeat the group of exercises while you are at it. Repeat all of them about five to ten times each day, according to needs, and they positively will build up a flabby throat, or rid any one of the danger of double chin and other aging conditions.

Before approving it, however, the senate amended the bill to provide for immediate advance to state governors of one-third of the funds allocated to them.

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—A major effort by senate leaders to break through dilatory debate, pass the unemployment relief bill and clear the road for early adjournment broke down early this morning in quarrelsome wrangling.

COUNTERFEIT FIVE AND TWENTY DOLLAR BILLS CIRCULATED

WARNING ISSUED THAT UNUSUALLY DECEPTIVE WORKMANSHIP IS INVOLVED

Descriptions of three types of counterfeit $5 National bank notes, and one type $20 gold note in circulation, and warnings to exercise extreme care in handling notes of these varieties, were sent to members of the Corsicana Retail Merchants' Association in a form letter Tuesday. The information was released by the United States secret service department, in San Antonio.

The form letter said: "We are advised that the bank here has already received two of them."

The notes are described as being unusually deceptive, printed on sheet of bond paper of good quality from photo-mechanical plates of exceptional workmanship. The uptrature in these counterfeits is poor, the forehead wrinkles and furrows running downward from the nose and mouth corners being particularly deceptive. Eyes are too black, particularly the right eye which resembles an ink spot. Heavy shading on the right cheek next to the ear created a side burn effect while the lower lip is on the side of the face to the left of the mouth the shadow likewise is severely placed black. A white spot appears prominently in the hair at the top of head.

In view of the dangerous character of these counterfeits, extreme care should be exercised in handling notes of this variety," the letter went on.

The notes are on the following banks: Champaign National Bank, Urban, Ohio; First National Bank, St. Louis, Mo.; and the First National Bank, Jefferson, Mo. The $5 gold note bears the serial number A2079743a; face plate 28; the serial number remains the same on all notes.

MANY VISITORS ARE EXPECTED TO ATTEND MEET OF SINGERS

MEXIA, June 23.—(P)—More than three thousand visitors are expected in Mexia Friday, Saturday and Sunday when the East Texas Singers Association holds its annual convention in the Mexia auditorium. There will be more than 200 official delegates from the 42 counties, and thousands of visitors along with them.

The Limestone County Singing convention, of which Miller Henry, Groesbeck, is president, and the Mexia Chamber of Commerce are hosts. Town and rural homes will be opened to entertain the official delegates and the singers on the program.

The municipal swimming pool will be opened free to visitors for three days, and the American Legion is planning a barbecue at noon Sunday for the visitors.

The local committee on arrangements includes: G. E. Blair, chairman; Sam E. Werner, Hans Smith, J. G. Coman and Leonard McWell.

Sessions of Kerens is president of the East Texas Singers Association, and L. Jeter of Kemp is secretary. They claim their organization holds the largest convention of any kind in East Texas.

Senator Reed Will Seek Presidency

KANSAS CITY, June 23.—(P)—Former Senator James A. Reed, said the privileges of going to party's convention as a delegate twelve years ago, left for Chicago convention last night for the highest honor it can give—the presidential nomination.

Missouri democracy which regarded the fiery opponent of the League of Nations and all "entanglements" a dozen years ago has instructed its delegates to national convention to use every honorable means to bring back his nomination.

At the eve of the nominating convention, the former senator cleared his stand on prohibition, immediate modification of the Volstead Act followed by submission of the eighteenth amendment to the people on the question of repeal.

Missouri's favorite son had little say of other candidates, their demands or of the ultimate outcome of the convention. He discussed briefly Speaker Garner's declaration yesterday for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

"While I do not agree in everything," he said, "I do think his statement most admirable." Reed said, "I admire Mr. Garner but does not mean I have to agree in his every position."

LOCAL CANDIDATES WILL OPEN BATTLE THURSDAY EVENING

PROVIDENCE GYM BE SCENE OF OPENING SPEAKING OF COUNTY CAMPAIGN

Candidates for district, county and precinct offices will formally inaugurate the "official" speaking tour of the various sections of Navarro county Thursday night at 8 o'clock when they will speak at the Providence gym, several miles southeast of Corsicana. The "official" schedule includes about 20 speaking dates in the county prior to the first primary Democratic election which will be held in the 8 voting precincts a month from Thursday.

The candidates are required to pay their assessments made by the Navarro county Democratic executive committee for the expenses of holding the first and second primary elections during this week. Saturday is the last day for the payment of the assessments of the candidates and the ticket committee from the county executive committee will meet here Monday morning to make arrangements for the ticket for the first primary. It was reported Thursday morning that the payment of assessments was slow, indicating many of the candidates were waiting until the last day for the paying of the assessments.

Thursday is also the day for filing of the first expense account by the candidates. L. C. Morgan, county clerk, stated Thursday morning that a number of the candidates had filed their expense accounts.

The second speaking date for the campaigners will be at Frost Saturday afternoon. Large crowds are anticipated at both the Providence and Frost appearances of the office-seekers.

WOMAN SAVES LIFE OF BOY BY USE OF FIRST AID METHOD

MEXIA, June 23.—(Spl)—Walter Hawthorne, Jr., 5, is alive today because Mrs. Jim Williams, a neighbor of the lad's parents in the oil field near here, learned artificial respiration methods in a first aid school conducted by the Pure Oil company's safety division recently. The boy, while playing near an old well fell and was hanging lifeless, a chain about his neck, when playmates screamed. Mrs. Williams reached him, released the boy and by the use of the Shafer method revived him. Dr. E. F. Hamm gave the woman credit for saving the boy's life.

QUARTER OF MILLION MEN TO PARTICIPATE IN EUCHARISTIC MEET

DUBLIN, June 23.—(P)—Massed in military formation before the high altar in Phoenix Park, a quarter of a million men will lift their voices under the stars tonight in one of the most inspiring moments of the Eucharistic Congress. It will be strictly an affair for men only. The singing will be led by special choir of men and carried to the vast congregation through a microphone system.

Cardinal Lauri, the papal legate, will preside at the meeting, and at its conclusion pass among the battalions.

A solemn pontifical high mass at 12:30 a. m. and another at 11 o'clock this morning were the religious high spots of today's program.

But the thousands of visitors spent a busy day with meetings for each nationality and general meetings at which the theme was the doctrine of the Eucharist—the bodily presence of Christ in the blessed sacrament—which is the central foundation of the Eucharistic Congress.

Tomorrow's arrangements include a pontifical high mass, more sectional meetings and a great mass meeting for women in the evening.

NOTED NEW YORK STOOLO PIGEON IS DEAD IN HOSPITAL

HAD BEEN GUARDED MORE CLOSELY THAN PRESIDENT; DIES OF ILLNESS

NEW YORK, June 23.—(P)—"Chile" Acuna, the stool pigeon who was guarded almost as carefully as a president, is dead.

His passing was not unexpected, but the manner of it was a surprise. Instead of the violent demise 15 "blue-ribbon" policemen were assigned to prevent, he expired peacefully last night in Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital. He had been in a coma after an operation for a brain tumor.

A swarthy young man of unashamed demeanor, Acuna burst into notoriety in 1930 by telling how detectives hired him to "get the goods" on defenseless and sometimes innocent women. The scandal he broke abolished the old equal and sent some of its members to Sing Sing prison.

His revelations helped reform the handling of vice case here. Under a ruling by police heads, the shadowy figure of the "Unknown Man" was eliminated from such cases. The unknown man, so listed on court records, was the stool pigeon or "come-on" who would mysteriously vanish during the police raid and turn up later to collect his stipend from the detectives.

Acuna appeared apparently out of nowhere to testify in the appellate court's inquiry conducted by Ildore J. Kresel and by Samuel Seabury, who later went on to inquire into the whole city government. He said he helped "frame" many women, dozens of them innocent, and deliver them up to be mulcted by bail bondsmen working in cahoots with crooked policemen.

Senora Calles Operated Upon Boston Hospital

BOSTON, June 23.—(P)—Senora Leonor Florentina Calles of Mexico City today underwent a brain operation at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. She is the wife of Gen. Members of the Calles family, including the former president, remained at their hotel suite awaiting word from the hospital.

PROCRASTINATION SUBJECT OF SERMON WEDNESDAY EVENING

The revival meeting conducted by the Copeland Evangelistic Party continues with interest. Last night (Wednesday) Kenneth Copeland, the boy evangelist, brought a message on the subject of "Procrastination." For a text he read the language of Isaiah when he said to the children of Israel on Mount Carmel, "How long halt ye between two opinions?" He brought out the fact that some sinners were halting because of some petty sin they felt like they couldn't turn loose. "Some," said the evangelist, "are halting because of business or professional affiliations. Some are procrastinating because of companions who won't join them in the Christian quest."

At the close of the service, two young people came forward and, in a very impressive altar service, gave their hearts to the Master of us all.

Friday night is to be family night. A small gift will be given the largest family in (number) in attendance. This includes only father and mother and the unmarried children. Children of a family who have married will not be counted in the original family but will be in their own immediate family. One of Corsicana's best male quartets will sing "Wandering Child, Come Home," at this service. Kenneth Copeland will preach on very unique subject "The First Thing I Talked About After I Was Born." Don't miss these services each evening at 8:15 o'clock on Thirteenth avenue at the junction of Eighteenth street.

LIMESTONE VOTERS FACE LONG TICKET IN COMING PRIMARY

Warmest races are for sheriff, where six are candidates. Sheriff A. B. McKenzie is not seeking re-election, and for representative in the legislature, where six, including the incumbent are running.

Two district judges, Fountain Kirby of the 77th district, and Lex Smith of the 87th district, are unopposed, as are County Clerk Anna Burney, State Senator W. R. Poage, County Treasurer J. M. Lockhart, Tax Collector Senate Womack, County Chairman L. F. Eubanks, and County Commissioner C. C. Ayres.
